Southwestern Lore Index now on the Web Site

Joel Hurmence is excited to inform us that our Chapter Web site is now hosting the index information for Southwestern Lore. Joel has put many hours into indexing the numerous volumes of the CAS publication so this is a tremendous resource to anyone doing research. You can check it out at <http://www.fornet.org/casncc/SWLIndex/>

May 22 - NCC Featured Event in Denver

Mary Jo Zeidler has informed us that the traveling exhibit, "Awakening Stories of Ancient Bison Hunting," is now on display during the month of May, in the lobby of the Colorado History Museum in Denver. She, along with member Jack Steele, delivered and assembled the exhibit. Susan Collins, State Archaeologist, and CHS staff are excited about the opportunity to display the exhibit.

Much effort has gone into publicizing the event. Betty Herrmann has addressed numerous special invitations to distinguished invitees. Joel Hurmence has added a link to our Web Site. Tom Hoff, State CAS President, has been instrumental in distributing the press release and extending invitations in the Denver area.

CEH is regarding the exhibit as 'exemplary.' As a result CEH has invited representatives from the Scientific and Cultural Facilities District to attend our program.

Mark Soldier Wolf, Northern Arapaho, who contributed to the exhibit is interested in attending the event with his family. He will be leading the graduation at Arapaho HS in Littleton earlier in the day. Please mark May 22nd on your calendar and show your support of this successful endeavor!
