Janet Pancoast is this year's party master. Janet is requesting that you bring a item of your choice of to share with at least ten people. If you plan to bring a crock pot please bring a extension cord.

Coffee, water and soda will be provided. Also, entree plates, desert plates, silverware, napkins, and salt and pepper will be provided. No alcoholic beverages, please.

If you have any questions or want to help with the potluck please call Janet Pancoast at 970-484-1976. Please RSVP by Tuesday of next week with Janet at her same number.

This is a Membership potluck. You are invited and if you have family and friends coming it is important to call Janet and give her the number of people in your party and to bring extra food to cover your extra family members and friends.

News with PAAC By Dave Swinehart

The news this month is that the PAAC program is going to have some new curriculum and some new pathways for PAAC certifications. They are going to be developed by Chris Johnston, our new Assistant State Archaeologist. This, however, is a huge undertaking, one that will require his full attention this winter and spring. Therefore, there will be no spring classes in 2017.

Chris has assured me that it is his hope that by making some modest alterations to the program, we can see it continue on and prosper for another 40 years.

Chris also indicated that his team is working on some options for folks to get involved and he may do “an informal thing” from time to time. He is going to meet with some other professionals in the region and see if they have opportunities for folks while he devotes his energy to this project.

This is achieved through public education, research, and enhanced opportunities for responsible participation in archaeology for interested individuals and organizations.

The Colorado Archaeological Society (CAS) came into existence in 1935 as a focus for people having interest in the history and prehistory of humans in Colorado.
